

3:00 pm-5:00 pm

Isaiah and I ran an errand, then we picked up Charles from work. Charles usually works a couple days a week for a family who go to our church. Fred cooked the pasta while I was gone, so we all sat down and ate dinner as soon as we got home.

After dinner, Fred suggested that we all go to Monson villiage. The kids enjoyed just running around in the field. We had fun playing catch with the football and kicking the soccer ball around. Charles was the only one who couldn't come, he went to one of his last Drivers Ed classes.

6:30 pm-8:00 pm

I was tired when I got home, but Christian had run into the house without realizing that he had stepped in dog poo, so I had to sweep and wet swiffer the floors. After that, I sat down with a cup of hot chocolate and read a novel. The boys did the dishes then they took turns on the computer. Sophie fell asleep on the couch and I carried her to bed.

8:00 pm-10:30 pm

We watched Shark Tank on TV. Charles got home from Drivers Ed class and told us that he got an 86% on his final test-the second highest score in his class! Isaiah has been earning money lately, and he had the idea to have a pizza delivered (something we never do). I ate 2 1/2 slices and was stuffed! I finished cleaning up the kitchen, then we all joined hands and had an awesome prayer time! I read a few verses from the Bible that hubby had reminded me of before falling asleep. By 10:30 everyone was in bed.
